

Let me begin by pointing out to you that in the eyes of some, my life has been very dull. I have no children; no house or flowers to look after; have never been a club woman; nor have I ever had any medical problems.

On the other hand, I have travelled a fair amount; have kept up my interest in sports, particularly tennis and figure skating; devote a great deal of time to painting; and have a husband who requires a lot of attention.

After graduation, I worked as Physical Director of the YWCA in Brantford, Ontario for three years, then held the same position in the Montreal YWCA from 1942 to 1945. Noticing that I was about the only one who lost any weight in the gym and dancing classes, decided the time had come to explore other endeavours. I took a short secretarial course and started to work for the International Air Transport Association in Montreal in 1946 and had a most interesting job for five years, with considerable opportunity to travel. Married an Austrian chemist in 1948, and in 1951 we moved to Toronto where we have lived ever since.

Aside from the activities mentioned above, we enjoy our week-end cottage life at Southampton on Lake Huron in the summer, and are actively interested in the Crest Theatre and the Art Gallery. Life is never dull.
